Outreach center reopens after relocation by Walgreens.

Article from: Journal of Evolutionary Psychology | June 1, 2003

Having had its former building leveled in late April to make room for construction of a Walgreens store at the 2200 block of Broadway, Child Evangelism Fellowship, Inc., has reopened at 1832 Walnut St. largely with the help of Walgreens developer S.E. Grainger Development Group.

Ruth Patraw, director of CEF, said Grainger had provided a moving company to help the organization move. Grainger also rebuilt the 2,000-square-foot building, installing carpet, lowering the ceiling, adding heat, air-conditioning and paint.

"The developer has treated us royally," Patraw said. "Jewel and I are in luxury here," she said of manager Jewel Beatty.
